45 Miles from Danzig Big Rail Junction Falls to Russians

By ROBERT MUSEL
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(BUP)—Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's northward sweep in the old Polish corridor today overran Czersk, big rail junction on the Berlin trunk line 47 miles southwest of Danzig.

Marshal Stalin issued a special order of the day announcing the capture of Czersk, in the centre of the corridor 45 miles north of Bydgoszcz.

Other Moscow reports said Marshal Ivan S. Konev's forces had renewed their two-way drive toward Berlin and Dresden, and that

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Marshal Gregory Zhukov's troops, fighting to encircle Frankfurt on the Oder, 38 miles east of Berlin, have "temporarily" slashed the city's lifelines to the capital, a German military commentator said today.

Family Dead Triple Murder, Suicide Is Seen In Four Deaths

LETHBRIDGE, Feb. 21.—(CP)—A family of four died violently Tuesday at Henderson Lake golf club house at Lethbridge in what city police described today as murder and suicide.

Dead are:
George M. Ogloff; Wilma Ogloff, his wife; Lorene, nine, their daughter; Michael, five, son.
Bodies of Mrs. Ogloff and the two children were found in the family automobile parked outside the club house with their throats slashed. Police said the father was found in bed in the clubhouse dead from shotgun wounds in his chest and they believe he died first.

MOTHER HAS RAZOR
Police said they found the mother with a razor clenched in her hand. They went to the scene after the tragedy was discovered by a relative last night who had gone to the club house where the Ogloff family had been living. He found no lights on but noticed the body of the little girl in the front seat of the car. The mother and boy were found in the rear seat.
Police said evidence indicated the deaths occurred shortly after noon Tuesday.

Japs Lose 92,000 Troops on Luzon

By WILLIAM B. DICKINSON
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
MANILA, Feb. 21.—(BUP)—Japanese forces, with their casualties in the Luzon campaign nearing the 100,000 mark, fought back savagely from a shrinking pocket in southern Manila today against American flame-throwers and heavy artillery.
Gen. Douglas MacArthur said the "bitter fighting" had developed as the American infantrymen slowly compressed the enemy lines and big guns maintained a steady bombardment of the ancient wall around the Intramuros sector.

The last-stand death battles waged by the Japanese were taking a heavy toll of the enemy forces. A communiqué reported that the Japanese casualties in the first six weeks of the Luzon campaign exceeded 92,000. In that same period, the American casualties totalled 2,676 dead, 10,008 wounded and 245 missing—a ratio of seven to one over the enemy.

The communiqué officially disclosed that the Japanese were "acting with the greatest savagery in the treatment of non-combatants and private property."

Berlin Announces Food Ration Slash

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—The Berlin radio announced tonight a 12½ per cent cut in food rations for all Germans. The broadcast said the reduction was an "emergency measure to help create reserves and provide a better basis on which rations can be worked out for a new period beginning in April."

Pope Still Ill

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Pope Pius XII still is confined to his room with influenza, it was announced yesterday. A Vatican physician said the illness is proceeding normally.

Pilot of a Lancaster bomber, FO. Ford arrived with a group of veteran airmen. He was graduated at No. 14 SPTS, Aymer, Ont., in April, 1943, taking a special course at Summerside, P.E.I., before proceeding overseas. A brother, Filt-Bert Ford, now on the Glite staff is a veteran of service with the RCAF City of Edmonton squadron overseas. Both sons worked at the newspaper before enlisting.

Blazing Fight U.S. Marines Storm Iwo's 2nd Airport

By WILLIAM F. TYREE
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
GUAM, Feb. 21.—(BUP)—American Marines stormed Iwo's second airfield today, by-passing the southern tip, and driving toward its heart from the south in a general advance averaging half a mile along the blazing island front.

Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced on the third day of the invasion of the island springboard to Japan that the two marine divisions had suffered 3,650 casualties—killed, wounded or missing—up to 8 a.m. today. The casualties were divided, 150 officers and the rest enlisted men.

A communiqué on the two battle, the toughest in the long history of the Marine Corps, said the two invasion divisions were slugging forward yards by yard against heavy machine gun, mortar, small arms and rocket fire.

HAMMER AHEAD
Maj-Gen. Keller E. Rockey's Fifth division hammered up the west coast of Iwo beyond the lower end of the runways of the last airfield remaining in Japanese hands.

Berchtesgaden Has First Raid

ROME, Feb. 21.—(AP)—American fighter-bombers yesterday made the war's first air attack on targets in and near Hitler's fortress city of Berchtesgaden, it was announced today.

The attackers swept in through intense flak and small arms fire, Allied air headquarters said, and pumped rockets into rail yards at low level.

In attacks in the immediate vicinity of Hitler's mountain hide-out, they knocked out a locomotive and eight rail cars. At other towns near Berchtesgaden they set fire to two passenger trains, destroyed a troop train estimated to have 150 soldiers aboard, and destroyed or damaged nearly 30 rail cars, some of them loaded with tanks.

The Americans operated as a unit in the RAF Desert Air Force. The Berchtesgaden operation formed only a part of the total of 2,400 sorties flown yesterday by Allied planes from Italy in what was officially called "an all-out effort against enemy communications" from northern Italy well into southern Germany.

Earl Lloyd George More Comfortable Physicians Report

CRICCIETH, Wales, Feb. 21.—(BUP)—Earl Lloyd George, 82, Britain's World War I prime minister, was more comfortable today, his physicians reported. They said his condition was not considered critical.

The doctors still declined to reveal the nature of his illness, though a bulletin last night said its nature caused some anxiety because of Lloyd George's advanced age.

War Secret Revealed Wizard Robot Gave Allies Amazing Bombing Success

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(Reuters)—One of the most closely-guarded British war secrets was revealed yesterday when it was disclosed that the distant reading gyro-magnetic compass, the wizard robot which made possible the successes of British and American bombers, was fitted to all long-range bombers of the RAF, Dominions' Air Forces and the United States Army Air Force.

The DRC, as it is known to pilots, not only controls "George," the automatic pilot, but also keeps up a constant stream of corrections to the high-altitude bomb sights, radio devices, air position system and a multitude of other complicated equipment.

No matter how much the bomber has to twist and turn, the DRC constantly sends automatic corrections to bomb-sights so that no matter under what conditions the bomb-aimer has to release his bomb, they will pin-point the chosen target accurately.

The secret of this super-instrument has been carefully preserved since it was first invented at Farnborough research establishment, England, as early as 1930.

Answers MP Atlantic Charter "A Guide, Not a Rule," Says Churchill

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(BUP)—Prime Minister Churchill told critics of Russia's annexation of eastern Poland and the Baltic states today that the Atlantic Charter was "a guide, not a rule."

He was replying to questions in Commons whether decisions on the future of the Baltic states and Poland at this time did not contradict article two of the Atlantic charter.

Churchill refused resolutely to elaborate in any way on the Crimean conference during the question period.

He is scheduled to make a statement on the conference at the opening of a two-day debate in the House next week.

TO DEFEND DECISION
Churchill was expected to go before the house in a fighting mood Tuesday and defend the Crimean decision on Poland to the hilt. Observers believed he would ask a vote of confidence, as he has in recent debates. If so, he was expected to win.

After Night Raids 1,850 Planes Pound Reich In Daylight

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
LONDON, Feb. 21.—(BUP)—More than 1,850 American bombers and fighters pounded German railroad and industrial targets in the Nazi shrine city of Nuremberg today for the second straight day.

Following up yesterday's 2,000-ton raid of the city, the U.S. Eighth Air Force sent more than 1,200 Flying Fortresses and Liberators back to the attack today in an apparent effort to complete the destruction of Nuremberg's vital railway yards. About 650 fighters escorted the heavies.

Many Troop Trains

The Nuremberg railway yards were reported choked with troops and supply trains, and unofficial reports yesterday suggested that the main target was a big troop train stalled there en route to the eastern front.

More than 1,200 British and Canadian planes raided Dortmund in Germany's industrial Ruhr last night while Mosquito bombers carried out two attacks on Berlin.

An undisclosed number of two-ton blockbusters were dropped among Berlin's ruins.

MONTEVIDEO, Feb. 21.—(BUP)—The Uruguayan House today approved, 62-19, a declaration of war against the Axis.

It Says Here

by Bob Hope

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 21.—There we were in Miami praying for good weather so that we could fly up and put on a show for the men at Chatham Army Air Field. Of course, the odds were against us. All the men at Chatham Field were praying for bad weather. But we finally made it. Col. "Nick" Nagreen got through and flew us up here. The Colonel, by the way, is only 32 years old. He would have been a General, but he couldn't get his parents' consent.

Yes, sir, these high ranking officers nowadays are really young. Col. Massey, the CO at Chatham Field, insisted I put my show on in one of the large hangars. They said, "No matter how big the eggs are, that will handle 'em." I ate lunch at the airfield and that was wonderful. They told me I could have all the butter I wanted, but I learned my lesson. That stuff doesn't keep well in your pocket. After lunch, the soldiers told me that Savannah was the home of Johnny Mercer and asked me over to their barracks for a crap game. I didn't get the connection at first, but then they "accentuated" the positive, and I wound up negative 50 dollars.

Envoy Praises Canadian Army

OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Comte Jean De Hauteclouque, first French ambassador to Canada, today presented his letters of credence to the Governor-General.

The new ambassador in an address spoke of the part played by Canadians in the liberation of France.

"French citizens are well aware of the debt they owe to the armies which have freed their native soil and among such armies their deep gratitude goes to Canadian soldiers whose heroism in Normandy, Picardy, and Artois gave freedom to so many cities and villages from whence 300 years ago many of their ancestors set out for the new world," he said.

"It is in recognition of this restoration of the French people and in recognition also of Canada's splendid war effort that the two governments of Ottawa and Paris have decided to raise to the rank of ambassadors their diplomatic missions."

No Sign of Crack In Japs' Morale Is Seen So Far

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Victory over Japan is "certain" but there is no sign of a crack in the morale of the 75,000,000 ill-fed, fanatical civilians whose spirit must be conquered, says an office of war information study of the Japanese social and economic position released last night.

Even after years of war and in the face of increasing privations and the mounting threat of Allied attack, the 75,000,000 Japanese remain mobilized behind their government, the report said.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(Reuters)—The German Franciscan Agency claimed last night that German torpedo-carrying aircraft yesterday morning sank seven merchantmen, totalling 5,700 tons, two light cruisers and two destroyers, part of an Allied convoy on its way to Britain from Murmansk, Russia. There was no Allied confirmation.

Scot Troops Take Fortress of Goch

By JAMES M. LONG

PARIS, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The American 3rd Army hurled an armored division through a hole gouged in the central German front in the Moselle-Saar triangle today and the tanks smashed 5½ miles toward Trier through disorganized resistance.

Goch, strongly fortified road centre between the Rhine and Maas rivers in the north, finally was captured by Scots of the 1st Canadian Army which gathered momentum in its offensive toward the Ruhr valley, 16 miles away.

South of the 3rd Army, the U.S. 7th Army advanced to within plain sight of Saarbrücken, less than three miles away. Shock troops invading the Saar again captured six border towns and broke into Forbach, large French rail centre which is almost a suburb of devastated Saarbrücken.

City Utilities Yield Surplus Of $1,228,615

Surpluses and taxes paid into the city treasury from the city owned utilities for the 12-month period ended Dec. 31, 1944 totalled $1,228,615.82, or the equivalent of 18 mills at the present mill rate, it was disclosed in a statement filed Wednesday with the city commissioners by A. A. Campbell, city controller.

This is an increase of $8,546.74 for the $1,220,069.08 from these sources in the year 1943, and is approximately $2,000 above the estimated revenue for 1944.

In addition to the taxes and surpluses paid the city treasury $1,282,332.84 was set aside in renewal reserve accounts compared with $1,347,590.58 the year previous. There will be a carry-over in these accounts into 1945 of $2,322,737.97, which with the anticipated $1,200,000 to be placed in reserve accounts during the current year will leave a total of approximately $3,500,000 for renewals and extensions of the five utilities.

Gross Revenue

Gross revenue from the utilities during 1944 totalled $7,363,763.89 compared with $6,617,783.24, an increase of $845,980.65. Gross expenditures in 1944 amounted to $1,640,988.39 to leave a surplus on operation of $3,139,665.50. Gross expenditures in 1943 amounted to $3,517,611.94 with a surplus on operation of $3,100,176.40.

During 1944, $628,716.84 was set aside for payment of capital expenditures.

Churchill Goes Without Cigars At Arab Talks

CAIRO, Feb. 21.—(BUP)—Prime Minister Churchill gave way to Arabian customs during his conference with middle-eastern rulers, it has been revealed here.

Not once did he smoke his traditional cigar at the meetings. And his gesture did not go unnoticed.

Smoking is considered sinful in the Arabian world and King Ibn Saud was said to have greatly appreciated Churchill's tactfulness.

Yank Armored Forces Breach German Front

valley leading to Coblenz and Mainz on the Rhine.

All along a 55-mile front, the 3rd Army was slamming the Germans back on their heels. The onslaught was in the Eifel mountains from the Pruem area to below the Moselle. Vanguards were within a mile of the northern fringe of the rich Saar district coal and steel region.

The attack overran 11 towns overnight and early today and reach to within 3 1/2 miles of the confluence of the Saar and Moselle, just northwest of venerable Trier, oldest city in Germany.

3 ARMIES POISED

Between the 3rd Army and the Canadians, three mighty Allied armies stood in strength along the Roer, which was receding steadily.

The 3rd Army was through or inside the Siegfried line along its entire 55-mile active front. Gains of a half-mile to a mile narrowed the gap between breaks in the line at Pruem and Echternach to barely 12 miles. Planes attacked six fortified villages in the Saar valley between Saarburg and Merzig.

German losses were extremely heavy in the Saar-Moselle triangle, where second-class enemy troops failed to stand up to the terrific force of the attack. More than 2,500 Germans have surrendered in the last 48 hours to the 3rd Army alone; the Canadians in the north captured 1,000 overnight for a 14-day total of more than 10,000.

SCOTS CUT RAILWAY

The Canadian Army was held without gain two miles from Calcar but Scottish troops of Gen. Crear's command cut the Goch-Uedem railroad near the smoking ruins of Goch and pressed to within 4,000 yards of Uedem itself.

In the north, the last enemy suicide squads were cleared from the ruined road centre of Goch, once a town of 15,500 and still the centre of eight military highways. The Scots thrust on 600 yards south-westward.

10,000 PRISONERS

British Empire troops fighting with Gen. Crear's command gathered momentum and drove deeper into the centre of German defences to synchronized thrusts through Buchholt and Walverboom, villages near besieged Calcar, swelling the total of approximately 10,000 prisoners taken since the offensive began Feb. 8.

On both the Canadian and 3rd Army fronts, clearing skies allowed planes to take off early to smash at the enemy.

British intelligence established that 50 battalions were opposing the 1st Canadian Army offensive. Col. Gen. Kurt Student had committed four divisions of his parachute army to the battle, scraping up infantry, tanks and panzer grenadiers from other sections of the awakening western front. All his troops were elite; none drawn from the very young and infirm of the Volksturm and Volksgrenadier divisions.

ROADS HARDEN

Both the Rhine and the Meuse (Maas) rivers, like the Roer, were returning to their banks and roads were hardening.

The Canadians, in regaining ground lost to German counterattacks yesterday near Uedem, destroyed five huge Panther tanks, three self-propelled 80-millimetre guns and two half-tracks.

The Germans made a supreme but vain effort to hang onto Goch, even putting tanks into the last stages of the bitter house-to-house, street-to-street battle.

To the southwest, British Empire troops put the Goch-Bergen highway and strengthened their block at a point 12 miles from the road centre of Geldern (pop. 6,500) and 24 from the Ruhr city of Krefeld (pop. 169,485).

FLOOD CHECKS FLANK

Gen. Crear's right flank still was checked by a flooded tank ditch running from the Meuse to the ancient castle Bilkenbeek.

Hand-to-hand fighting continued in the Moyland and Calcar region, northeast of Goch, where the enemy fought to retain control of high ground near the Rhine. The eminence stretches for miles south of the present battlefield. Nearest Scottish vanguards were only 4,000 yards from Uedem, a fortified road centre of 5,500.

The Germans suffered fearful losses and the British Empire troops likewise had heavy casualties. Associated Press war correspondent Ned Norcross, reported from the northern front. The foe was fighting obstinately to check the Allied push behind the rear of the Siegfried line and attempting to swing the offensive back to face the 30 miles of formidable lines the Germans still hold between Castle Bilkenbeek and Roermond.

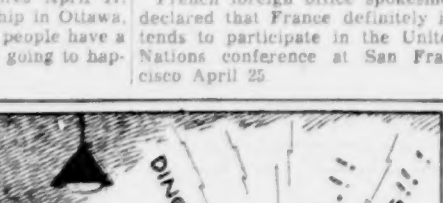

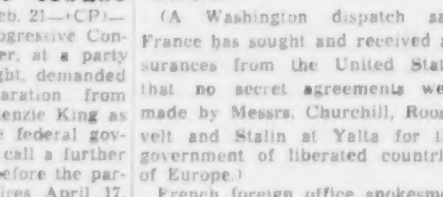

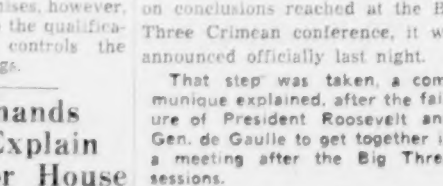

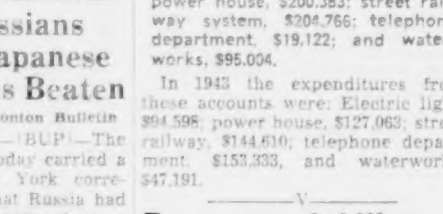

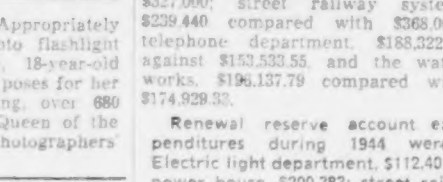

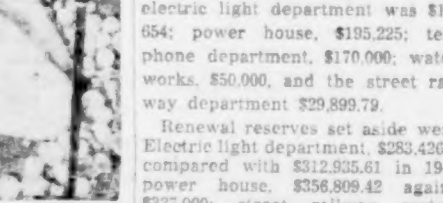

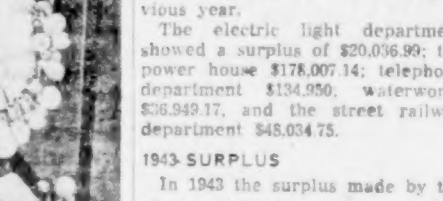

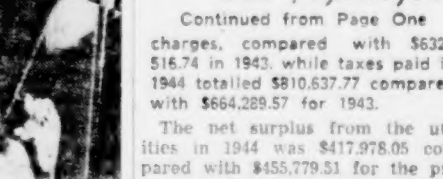

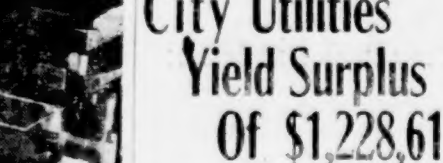

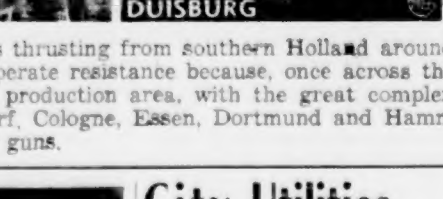

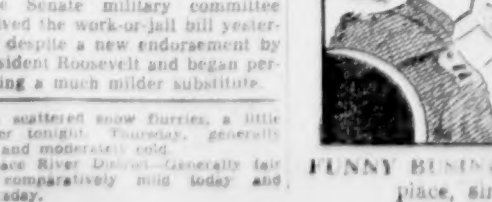

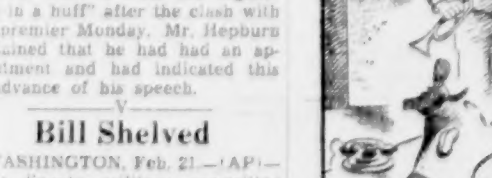

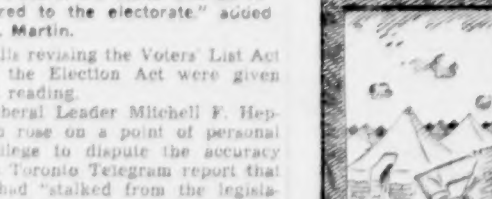

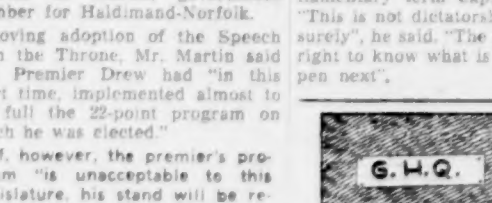

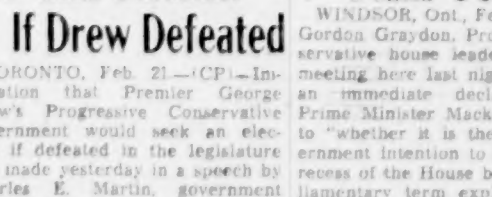

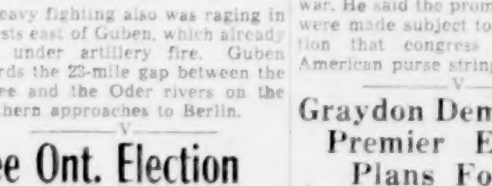

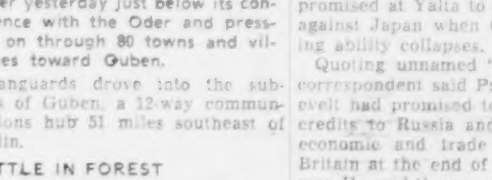

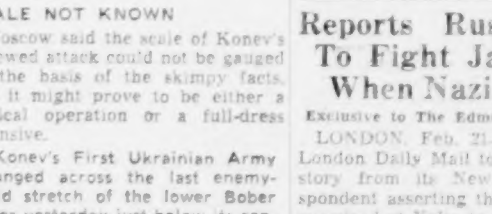

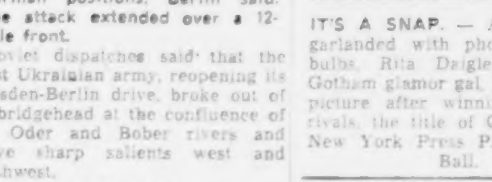

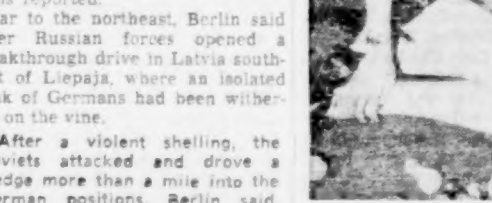

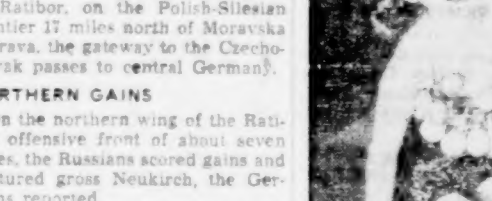

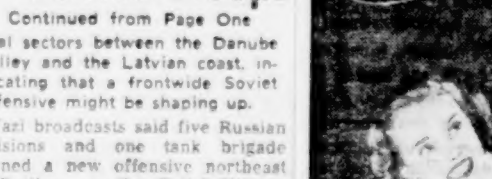

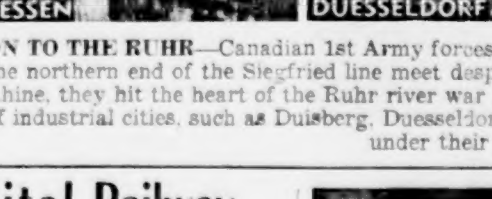

Pillboxes encountered on the line Calcar-Uedem were huge, moss covered concrete works. Besides the 10,000 prisoners taken in the two weeks old offensive, the enemy is estimated to have lost 6,000 killed.

THE FORECASTS

Alberta—Fair and comparatively mild today and Thursday. Saskatchewan—Fair tonight and Thursday with stationary or slightly lower temperature. Manitoba—Fresh winds, partly cloudy.

ON TO THE RUHR—Canadian 1st Army forces thrusting from southern Holland around the northern end of the Siegfried line meet desperate resistance because, once across the Rhine, they hit the heart of the Ruhr river war production area, with the great complex of industrial cities, such as Duisburg, Duesseldorf, Cologne, Essen, Dortmund and Hamm under their guns.

eral sectors between the Danube valley and the Latvian coast, indicating that a frontwide Soviet offensive might be shaping up.

Nazi broadcasts said five Russian divisions and one tank brigade opened a new offensive northeast of Rastibor, on the Polish-Silesian frontier 17 miles north of Moravskya Ostrava, the gateway to the Czechoslovak passes to central Germany.

NORTHERN GAINS

On the northern wing of the Rastibor offensive front of about seven miles, the Russians scored gains and captured gross Neukirch, the Germans reported.

Far to the northeast, Berlin said other Russian forces opened a breakthrough drive in Latvia southeast of Liepaja, where an isolated bank of Germans had been withering on the vine.

After a violent shelling, the Soviets attacked and drove a wedge more than a mile into the German positions, Berlin said. The attack extended over a 12-mile front.

Soviet dispatches said that the First Ukrainian Army, reopening its Dresden-Berlin drive, broke out of its bridgehead at the confluence of the Oder and Bober rivers and drove sharp salients west and northwest.

SCALE NOT KNOWN

Moscow said the scale of Konev's renewed attack could not be gauged on the basis of the skimpy facts, and it might prove to be either a tactical operation or a full-dress offensive.

Konev's First Ukrainian Army plunged across the last enemy-held stretch of the lower Bober river yesterday just below its confluence with the Oder and pressed on through 80 towns and villages toward Guben.

Vanguards drove into the suburbs of Guben, a 12-way communications hub 51 miles southeast of Berlin.

BATTLE IN FOREST

Heavy fighting also was raging in forests east of Guben, which already was under artillery fire. Guben guards the 20-mile gap between the Spre and the Oder rivers on the southern approaches to Berlin.

See Ont. Election If Drew Defeated

TORONTO, Feb. 21.—(CP)—In a plea that Premier George Drew's Progressive Conservative government would seek an election if defeated in the legislature was made yesterday in a speech by Charles E. Martin, government member for Haldimand-Norfolk.

Moving adoption of the Speech from the Throne, Mr. Martin said that Premier Drew had "in this short time, implemented almost in full the 22-point program on which he was elected."

If, however, the premier's program "is unacceptable to this legislature, his stand will be referred to the electorate," added Mr. Martin.

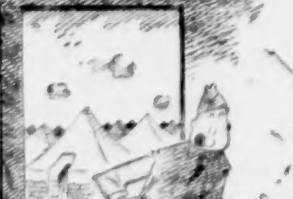

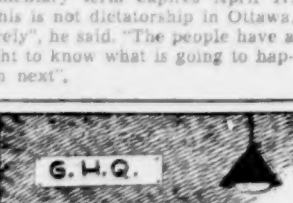

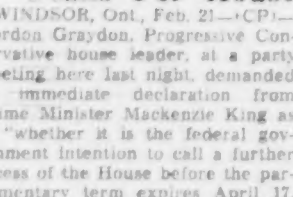

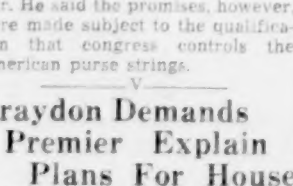

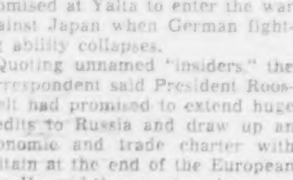

Bills reviving the Voters' List Act and the Election Act were given first reading.

Liberal Leader Mitchell F. Hepburn rose on a point of personal privilege to dispute the accuracy of a Toronto Telegram report that he had "talked from the legislature in a huff" after the clash with the premier Monday. Mr. Hepburn explained that he had had an appointment and had indicated this in advance of his speech.

Reports Russians To Fight Japanese When Nazis Beaten

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin LONDON, Feb. 21.—(BUP)—The London Daily Mail today carried a story from its New York correspondent asserting that Russia had promised at Yalta to enter the war against Japan when German fighting ability collapses.

Quoting unnamed "insiders," the correspondent said President Roosevelt had promised to extend huge credits to Russia and draw up an economic and trade charter with Britain at the end of the European war. He said the promises, however, were made subject to the qualification that congress controls the American purse strings.

Graydon Demands Premier Explain Plans For House

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 21.—(CP)—Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative house leader, at a party meeting here last night demanded an immediate declaration from Prime Minister Mackenzie King as to "whether it is the federal government's intention to call a further recess of the House before the parliamentary term expires April 17."

"This is not dictatorship in Ottawa, surely," he said. "The people have a right to know what is going to happen next."

(A Washington dispatch said France has sought and received assurances from the United States that no secret agreements were made by Messrs. Churchill, Roosevelt and Stalin at Yalta for the government of liberated countries of Europe.)

French foreign office spokesmen declared that France definitely intends to participate in the United Nations conference at San Francisco April 25.

Blaze Damages Storage Shed

Fire of unknown origin damaged a storage shed, groceries and an automobile owned by Smith's and White store, 10358 82 avenue, at 9:25 a.m. Wednesday.

The blaze had secured a foothold before it was noticed and firemen from No. 6 hall responded, laying two lines of hose and a booster line.

pected to win overwhelmingly, although many members probably will abstain from voting as a sign of disapproval.

Maurice Petherick, a National Conservative, had asked Churchill whether article two of the Charter applied to Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia and Poland. Article two expressed the desire of the subscribing powers to see no territorial changes not in accord with the freely-expressed wishes of the people concerned.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden dodged a direct question whether Britain had evidence that Poles east of the Curzon line desired to be incorporated in Russia.

BROADER QUESTION

"This is not purely a Polish-Russian question," Eden said. "It is also very much a Ukrainian question. . . and I know there is a large Ukrainian majority in this area (Eastern Galicia)."

"Is not this a surrender to power politics?" demanded Maj. Gen. Sir Alfred Knox, a Conservative, amid cheers.

The question went unanswered. Eden announced that Britain and France were discussing an "arrangement" but emphasized it was different from the Anglo-French union proposed in 1940.

Farmers Receive $116,000 as Bonus

Alberta farmers have already received $116,000 as wool bonuses on 1944 production. It was announced Wednesday by Hon. D. Bruce MacMillan, minister of agriculture. Payment is made at the rate of four cents a pound and is paid by the Dominion and provincial governments on a fifty-fifty basis.

A total of 3,817 producers have received the bonus this year, Mr. MacMillan said. Cheques have varied from $10 to more than $1,000 with 90 per cent of payments being under $50 and the average being $30. Approximately $25 bonus was paid for 1943 production.

Estimated production of wool in 1944 is 4,900,000 pounds, Mr. MacMillan said. The figure compares with 4,000,000 pounds produced in 1943. Estimated wool bonus payments on the 1944 production is $120,000.

Payment of the bonus is to encourage marketing of higher quality wool and as well increase its production, the minister stated. The bonus is paid on wool above a certain grade.

France to Attend Allied Conference

PARIS, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The French government announced last night it was actively pursuing an exchange of views on the "Big Three" Crimea conference despite the inability of Gen. de Gaulle and President Roosevelt to hold a meeting.

Spokesmen for the foreign office also declared France definitely intends to participate in the United Nations conference at San Francisco April 25.

The reports came as the French public heard for the first time of Gen. de Gaulle's refusal to meet the President at Algiers.

In one of the first published accounts of the incident, the newspaper Combat said Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and some other ministers wanted Gen. de Gaulle to forget national pride and meet with Mr. Roosevelt despite the latter's declining to come to France, but the head of the government was sustained in his refusal by a majority of the cabinet. There was no denial that the situation arose from France's disappointment at being left out of the "Big Three" meeting at Yalta.

Seven-Man Plane Crew Is Missing

Only Surplus War Material Is Destroyed

MONTREAL, Feb. 21.—(CP)—G. H. Lash, executive assistant to the president of War Assets Corporation, said last night that "we are not destroying anything today that is of the slightest use in the civilian economy."

"Material that is being destroyed is material that is completely surplus to all military requirements and at the same time has no civilian use," he said in commenting on the burning of the skeletons of obsolete aircraft near Calgary, Monday.

PLANES STRIPPED

"As far as those planes were concerned, everything salvageable was removed before the fuselages were burned. The wheels were stripped off, the instrument panels dismantled, so that all the government had left were skeletons which had to be disposed of."

"Destruction, unfortunately, is a very necessary part of the operations undertaken by War Assets Corporation," he continued. "The only thing we can do is to destroy intelligently and the public can be assured that we are destroying intelligently not wantonly."

Mr. Lash divided the operations of the corporation into two phases in predicting that there would have to be greater destruction of war materials after victory.

IN FIRST PHASE

"We are in the first phase now. At present so many of the things that are of no military use are needed to fill shortages in the civilian economy and so can be put into civilian use. Thus, only a small part of the material that comes to us for disposal at present has to be destroyed."

"Later on, we will reach a second phase, the phase when we will have enormous stocks of materials coming to us while at the same time the whole country will be struggling to get back to a civilian economy. The destruction that will have to be done then is not really destruction—it is necessary means of getting the peace-time economy on its feet."

"For instance, supposing later on we are asked to dispose of thousands of pairs of used socks and sweaters, while at the same time the knitting mills are trying to re-absorb employees from the armed forces. If we dump those socks and sweaters on the market the mills won't be able to operate and a lot of people will be out of work."

SENSIBLE PLAN

"In a case like that, wouldn't it be more sensible to unravel the wool and turn it back to the mills for reknitting, rather than to sell the socks and sweaters and pay dolo to those left out of work?"

A lot of material, also, he added, was strictly war material with no peace-time use at all. Tanks, for instance, might have cost $25,000 to build, but after the war the corporation wouldn't be able to sell them as tanks. All that could be done would be to break them into scrap and sell the metal and any of the parts that could be fitted into a peace-time economy.

Possibly a $25,000 tank would bring about $150 as scrap after the war, but unless it was broken up into scrap it wouldn't bring anything at all.

Already there had been some destruction of war materials that were obsolete for war use and had no part of a civilian economy. Out-moded shells and bombs, for example, were towed out to sea and dumped because it had been found much too dangerous to try to unload them and re-use the casings.

By ELMONT WAITE

GUAM, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The three-day invasion of Iwo is ahead of schedule despite the unprecedented ferocity of Japanese resistance. It was learned today.

The United States 5th Marine Corps achieved one of the invasion's main objectives by noon Tuesday, a little over 24 hours since the marines landed on the southeast coast, when they captured the three-runway Motoyama Bomber Field No. 1, within fighter plane range of Tokyo, 750 miles to the north.

Disclose 600,000 Jobless in France

OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—(CP)—The federal trade department has been informed that there are at least 600,000 unemployed in France at present because the wartime damage to the country's transportation systems has prevented coal and raw materials from reaching factories, it was disclosed yesterday.

The department received the information through its commercial intelligence branch which obtained a report on economic conditions in France from Yves Lamontagne, commercial secretary at the Canadian embassy in Paris.

Mr. Lamontagne also reported: 1. France now has an army of 600,000 men and expects to have about 1,200,000 men under arms by next spring.

2. Plans are being made to raise more than 1,000,000 tons of shipping that have been sunk in or near French harbors.

3. More than 1,200,000 buildings in France have been destroyed or damaged since war started.

Chaplin Claims He Is Victim Of Persecution

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Charles Chaplin last night branded as "political persecution" recent legislation introduced by Senator William Langer (Rep., N.D.) directing the attorney-general to investigate the film actor-producer to determine whether he should be deported as an undesirable alien.

"It has been going on for four years, ever since I made an anti-Nazi picture, 'The Great Dictator,' in which I expressed liberal ideas," the 35-year-old English-born Chaplin said in a statement to the press.

"On account of this picture, I was called to Washington for questioning as a war monger. . . . This investigation fell through after Pearl Harbor."

"The persecution, however, increased after I dared to speak on behalf of Russia, urging the Allies to open a second front."

Airman Wins VC At Cost of Life

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(Reuters)—Flt. Sgt. George Thompson, a Scot in the RAF, has been posthumously awarded the Victoria Cross, it was announced here yesterday.

The citation described how the 24-year-old radio operator on the return flight of a crippled Lancaster bomber after the Jan. 1 raid on the Dortmund-Ems canal rescued the unconscious mid-upper and rear gunners from their blazing turret and extinguished their burning clothes with his hands although suffering burns which made him unrecognizable when he reported to the captain.

The Lancaster crash-landed and the men were rushed to hospital, but Thompson died three weeks later. One of the gunners also died.

Flt. Sgt. Thompson's father lives at Minnathorpe, Kinrosshire.

This brought to 130 the number of men given the Empire's highest award for gallantry in this war. Eight of the recipients have been Canadians.

A Good Move

Members of our fighting forces whose homes are in central or northern Alberta, or who come here to establish homes, will be able to have their problems heard and settled by the Edmonton office of Veterans' Affairs.

At present such matters have to be referred to Calgary. This is inconvenient, and involves delay and expense. In a good many instances the returned man probably struggles along as best he can without official advice and information, rather than journey to the southern city to present his case.

On April 1st the Edmonton office will go on its own, and will thereafter be competent to deal fully with reestablishment and rehabilitation questions. The veteran will thus be able to find out, with a minimum of inconvenience, all the ins-and-outs of the arrangements which have been made to help him get back satisfactorily into civilian life.

More Library Funds

The Edmonton Public Library Board will ask the city to increase the millrate levy on behalf of the library by half a mill in order to augment its funds. For this purpose, the Board proposes that the Provincial Government be requested to amend the Public Libraries Act.

This suggestion is not unreasonable.
The Edmonton Public Library is performing an excellent service for this community, particularly in the circulation of children's books, which reached a new record of 274,426 during 1944, and in the promotion of musical concerts.

The library has made itself a valuable cultural asset and stands out, among the municipal libraries of Canada, as one of the most efficient.

The costs of the library are not high,
the budget for 1945 being no more than $85,900. This is an exceedingly small price to pay for what the library gives.

And if the library gives so much for so little, it is a reasonable supposition that it will give appreciably more with larger funds at its disposal.

The suggestion for another half-mill to increase its revenue will meet the approval of many appreciative citizens.

Headed For Essen

The capture of Goch puts the Canadian 1st Army on the highway system leading into the Ruhr, the destination at which its drive seems to be aimed.

The advance thus far has been an amphibious operation, in the simplest meaning of the term. Our men had to wade, sometimes breast-high, through floods
which the enemy released by blowing up dams. At that the Nazis got the worst of it. The water drove them out of their advance defence positions, but it did not stop the attack.

With highways under foot, even pot-holed as they likely are, the going for the Canadians should be better from this on.

In mileage the distance is not great,
for the nearest of the Ruhr cities is only 17 miles from Goch, but it would be folly to suppose the enemy will not defend his great munitions area resolutely.

To the casual reader "the Ruhr" is a vague expression, though its significance is well enough known. It makes the objective much more definite to remember that Essen, home of the great Krupp works, is one of the munitions centres at stake in the Canadian offensive.

They Can Still Drive

Hon. C. D. Howe reports no improvement in the gasoline situation during the past year, and none expected until the war demand falls off. The basic ration for civilian motorists will therefore be the same for 1945 as for 1944—40 units, good for 120 gallons unless the unit value is changed later.

This seems to imply that a good deal more gasoline has become available to the western Allies, from some source, than they could obtain a year ago. France had not then been invaded and army requirements were at the preparatory level. Now tanks and trucks in thousands are burning all the gasoline the engines can use as they plow through mud and navigate roads which must be almost equally hard on the fuel supply.

Still, there is enough in the "pool" that Canadian motorists can burn as much as they did last year for pleasure or convenience driving. That is no excuse for waste.
But it is surprisingly better luck than they had any reason to expect on D-day.

How Much Capital?

A CCF member of the Saskatchewan legislature thinks the money made available to a returned man under the federal Veterans' Land Act is "absurdly small".
The amount is $1200 for stock and machinery and $4800 for land and buildings, a total of $6000.

What amount he thought would be reasonable in order to start a veteran in farming the despatch does not state. Undoubtedly this sum would be small if veterans were to be victimized as they were at the close of the First Great War by being loaded up with land at two or three times its value and with equipment they did not need and could not economically use.

But since the proposal is that returned men who buy land are to get it for what it is worth, and stock and implements on the same basis, the amounts provided by the Act are as much as the returned man who knows anything about farming would expect.

Any one who could not make a "go" of the business with that much capital would almost certainly come to grief if he were led into trying his luck on a more ambitious scale.

Two-Jima is one of three patches of rock sticking up out of the Pacific 750 miles south of Tokyo. They comprise what is known as the Volcano group. The central one, where the fighting is taking place, is only eight square miles in area.
The Japanese fortified it heavily and established a wartime garrison estimated at 15,000 men, consisting of picked divisions, counted on to fight to the last. They are evidently making good the expectation, and Tokyo has probably written them off as a complete loss, physically as well as militarily.

Sir Claude Auchinleck was of course using a figure of speech when he said the Japs are "on the run" in Burma. Despatches say they are fighting like wildcats, the country not being adapted for sprinting, and a good place to run to not being discoverable on the map.

Maybe somebody will get consolation for reduction in his sugar rations because canned rhubarb and canned crab-apples are taken off the rationed list.
There is no accounting for tastes.

An official statement says Swedish exports to Germany stopped at the New Year. That was when the trade pact expired. And when Germany's credit did the same thing.

Nine Montreal merchants were fined for selling shirts illegally. If they were good shirts a lot of people would like to know where they got them.

Foreign minister Shigemitsu said his "principle" is not to reject any help that offers peace. He probably told the truth that time.

Mrs. James Lauder received by last mail from a relative in Scotland a document dated July 22, 1786, signed by Robert Burns, of Mossgiel. It is a

The plans of the Territorial Exhibition build-

the purpose for which they are intended, but in ar-resemblance to the Athabasca warehouse in the

Time Is Now
Editor Bulletin: I hope more people besides myself are indignant at the hesitation shown by the British Government in determination to try war criminals.

If the people of the United Nations, who lost so much to win this war, are indifferent enough to allow their governors to set war criminals free, and administer a soft peace to the enemies of mankind, they will,
by this sin of omission, set the stage for a third, and even more hideous world war that will not be fought in Europe alone.

The people of the north and south American continents will experience the unspeakable horrors that have been inflicted on European countries by the German beastman.
The plans for a third world war are already being laid in South America.

The time to build the safeguards of our future is now. If our governments show weakness of resolution in doing the just and honorable thing, there is but one course left—
the people must make their demands known to their governments.

New Name

Editor Bulletin: M. J. Coldwell vigorously opposed the organization and despatch of an overseas army in September, 1939.

Coldwell now states that the Socialists, if in power, would have held all troops in Canada until necessity demanded their despatch overseas. Apparently close association has stimulated Coldwell to try to emulate the Prime Minister, who has almost, but not quite, succeeded in fooling all of the people all of the time.

Lately a crown minister has charged the Socialists with whispering to Saskatchewan mothers that their sons would not now be overseas had the Socialists been in power. This seems still undecided.
It is therefore recommended that the name of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation party be changed to the Zombie party—more appropriate, more euphonious, and more readily mouthed.

Poland and Russia

Editor, Bulletin: Re the Big
Three settlement of Poland: I am a Pole in the Canadian Active Army.
I would like to say it isn't right for Russia to take one-third of Poland, as she wasn't fighting for Poland or any other country. She had to fight on Polish soil, and those people who were shooting about Russia not wanting wartime territories are all wrong.

I, with many other Poles, don't like to see Poland under Communism. I give Russia credit for a very good fight, but who composes the backbone behind it—Britain, United States and Canada. Russia received from the United States alone, from October, 1941, to December, 1944, 331,000 vehicles, including 45,000
jeeps, 29,000 motorcycles, 1,045 locomotives, 7,164 flat cars, 6,000 trucks, 135,000 machine guns, etc. And after all, Russia isn't doing all the fighting, either.

Leaders

Editor, Bulletin: When the guiding principles of the Atlantic Charter were publicized the people accepted them and in good faith expected this democratic policy would be adopted. They also confidently endorsed the Teheran agreement by which the Allies pledged "to make a peace which will command the goodwill of the peoples of the world and bring the scourge and terror of war for many generations."

Now, however, they are asking why these promises are not being fulfilled in Greece, Belgium and Italy. Further cause for their skepticism is the reflex of these denials and betrayals of the Atlantic Charter and Teheran agreement right here in Canada.

For instance, Mr. Arthur Meighen, ideological leader of the Tories,
said the working people of Canada need to "relearn the lessons of hard work, honesty and thrift."
One need not pause to compare the average worker's honesty and thrift with that of Mr. Meighen's. And surely he knows through government statistics that Canadian workers have bought a large share of war bonds and have exceeded the per capita production of British workers!

Then we find toddling along in Tory footsteps Mr. Angus MacLennan, CCF MP, for he takes the same position as Mr. Meighen when he says "We (the CCF leaders) do not glorify Teheran and all that bunk!"

Needless to say, Hitler would bestow iron crosses on all who endorse such opinions and in view of the coming federal election it is fortunate we know the real sentiments of all the Tories and CCF leaders who ignore the war effort and clamor for general strikes and "Socialism now."

Sabbath

Editor, Bulletin: I note letter from "Truth" in your issue of Feb.
14, quoting Acts 10, 7:1, 21: Cor. 16 for attention of the Sabbath. He evidently overlooked Acts 18:4, which says Paul spoke to the Jews and Greeks in Corinth in the synagogue every Sabbath.

Christ said in the Commandments,
Matt. 5:18: "Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled."

There was nothing said as to when was the special day or special place for the "Breaking of Bread."
Christ said Do this in remembrance of Me.

People seem too fond of splitting hairs on Sabbath-keeping and whether Jesus was a Jew or not.
As to the last point, Paul says,
"All nations are of one blood."
The only scriptures referred to by Christ and existing in His days were the Hebrew.

If those who say they are Christians would only by their words and actions live the life and faith of Jesus there would be less trouble.
In fact "no trouble."

Military Results of Conference

May Be Army Collapse as Discouragement Follows News

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

Although most comment, including my own, has concentrated on the political significance of the Crimea conference, its military importance is more immediate. For months Hitler has promised his people that the impasse in which Germany is caught would be opened with a division

between the Allies. Peace feelers put out by the Germans in neutral European capitals, may have seemed to promise some chance of success. But the Crimea conference must have revealed to every German that Germany is in a dead-end street. If any still doubted this, the new unified assaults—especially the use of Anglo-American air forces to open the way for advancing Russian troops—have repeated the lesson in letters of blood and fire.

As usual the Germans themselves reveal by acts what their words deny. On Friday the Nazi radio announced that Hitler and Himmler had declared martial law over most parts of Germany, and that every civilian, man, woman or child, who leaves his job or fails in his duty, would be court-martialed and subject to the death penalty. This light of the fact that officials, such as mayors, in the eastern provinces have already been shot for "cowardism" and "desertion."

There is a supreme irony in the fact that Hitler, who always attributed the loss of the last war to the "Dolchoss von Hinten"—the civilian revolt in the rear of the still intact fighting front—is this time confronted by collapse at the front and at home. But now he is more likely to hold the civilians than the soldiers. The civilian collapse in the last war was of course, a direct reflection of news from the front, and the universal recognition of the fact that the war was lost. Hitler always blamed those who acted upon the recognition—the social democrats, to whom he added all radical groups, and the Jews. This time the Jews have been eradicated and the social democrats suppressed. Yet, though terroristic methods can postpone civilian revolt, they will not prevent history from repeating itself.

But this time the collapse is far more likely to take place at the front than at the rear, for it is far easier to suppress civilians by terror than to prevent armies from taking a few steps forward into the ranks of the Allies and surrounding—individually and in droves.

Now, the German officer and soldier at the front, who loves his country more than he loves his Fuehrer, must be asking himself
some questions. (And I suggest there are millions of Germans who care more for Germany—and their own skins—than they care for Hitler, Himmler, Goering and Goebbels.)

They have been promised salvation through two things—a secret weapon, and a rift between the Allies. A secret weapon was forthcoming, and did not change the course of events. The Allied rift is patently false. The German soldier on the hard-pressed eastern front has been promised re-inforcements, but they do not arrive—and the terrific air bombardment of Anglo-American planes, re-enforcing the Russians, block such German aid as might be planned.

The Russians are standing before Cottbus, which is where the American fliers Chamberlain and Levine landed so many years ago
—and I remember that I went to Cottbus in a taxicab to see them.
Dresden, a beautiful German city,
hitherto untouched, is a shambles of ruins and corpses, and is still burning.

Military defeat and moral collapse are connected, but are different things. A defeated soldier may still fight on. But collapse is certain to occur when the soldier knows that further resistance is not only useless but disastrous—disastrous for himself, his own family, his own country. Then patriotism joins forces with the instinct of survival, in every soldier's bosom, unless he be a Nazi SS man who can only hope to postpone the wages of sin.

When a regime has to announce its intention to court martial women, it admits a state of civil war.
Court martial is not law and order.
It is the replacement of law and order—the open admission that law and order are incompetent to hold the people in line. The forerunner of the collapse in Berlin, after the last war, was the posters plastered on the kiosks, signed by the military commander of the area, and beginning, "I, General Von Linsingen, forbid under death penalty the formation of workers and peasants councils and the meeting of more than five persons in the streets."

Most Berliners had no idea what he was talking about—but in Kiel a mutiny had begun. And, in the same way, the draconian measures of Hitler and Himmler, must reflect what is happening at the front.

And there is no indoctrination,
no fanaticism, which will keep more than a small minority of any army fighting, when to continue is suicide—for themselves and their country—and they know it.

Have you ever thought when grand-

Let us all see to it that grandma

Fundamental Basis

Editor Bulletin: The unchanging basis of true democracy as expressed by Abraham Lincoln in his address at Gettysburg is of vital importance today to successful provincial, national and international government: "That this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom." Very often in the Scriptures a precious promise is accompanied by a necessary condition which must be obeyed before the promise can be fulfilled.

The promise by Abraham Lincoln is also accompanied by the necessary condition, "under God."

Is it not an unchanging spiritual fact that this fundamental basis of true democracy will always remain the necessary condition under which the people of all nations can enjoy freedom, peace and happiness?

Dickens Brought Back to Life

lery were the Mayor and Mayoress

ants. The upper gallery—the "gods"
—was unoccupied. The rest of us stood around the "stage" in the courtyard.

Little Nell was sweet and terrific. Grandfather, paternal and less and Quilp, grasping and vil-laneous, while he shivered in the grey Winter's afternoon. One could appreciate to the full the feelings of Little Nell and Grandfather when they were cast out into the "cold cruel world."

Then just before "rigor mortis"
set into actors and audience alike
the scene ended and we all proceeded to Lamb Street School, which is on the site of one of Dickens' early homes. There is the library a wreath was placed on a bust of the novelist and we witnessed as a final scene the death of Little Nell.

One would have to be dull indeed not to be caught up in the spirit of the occasion. One had but to shut one's eyes to some of the visible aspects of our modern civilization, including the local results of bombing, to be back again in the days when "England old already now called merry" wasn't really very merry at all in the abodes of the poor, the destitute, the diseased

But it was a characterful age and, from the distance of the present, one full of interest and color.

As I stood in that courtyard
I seemed to hear ghostly hoofbeats

Dual Taxation Is Protested By Bar Assn.

OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—(CP)—The Canadian Bar Association, in a brief filed yesterday with the Ives Royal Commission on Taxation, said present application of succession duties and income tax on family and closed corporations was leading to sale of businesses to preserve something for dependents of the main shareholder.

The Ives Commission is charged with the investigation of two phases of taxation—the taxing of pensions and annuities and the application of succession duties and income taxes on family and closely-held corporations in the event of the death of a major shareholder.

The commission yesterday turned to the second phase of its investigation and in addition to receiving the bar association brief, filed without any oral presentation, the commissioners heard details of the affairs of a company which faces the prospect of being affected by present taxation policy.

REMAIN ANONYMOUS

On the suggestion of G. A. Auxier, commission counsel, Hon. W. C. Ives, chairman, ruled that individual companies which place their cases before the board will remain anonymous in the proceedings.

The situation complained of by both the Bar Association and the representatives who appeared at the hearing is that in family and closely held corporation profits are frequently plowed back into the business. On the death of a major shareholder, these immediately become subject to both succession duties and income tax—a levy which in many cases is beyond the ability of the company to pay.

"Unless some relief is granted estates will be forced to surrender shares in companies having undistributed surplus because the heirs will not be able to find sufficient money to pay the tax," said the Bar Association brief.

PROBABLE COURSE

"If this happens the business will probably vest in the crown in the right of the province. If the business is not operated the employees will be thrown out of work and consequently it will have to be sold and sold quickly, unless the crown are prepared to operate. If the property is sacrificed in many cases the crown will fail to recover more than the succession duties."

"Now that taxpayers are becoming aware of the situation owners of companies having undistributed income—and most manufacturers who have ploughed back profits into plant are in this situation—are attempting to sell their business so as to leave something for their dependents, because if they do not under the present law little will be left."

"The easiest way to sell is to offer the property to a competitor who in most cases, will close up the plant and move the machinery, in which case the employees will lose their jobs and be thrown out of work just before the reconstruction period when jobs are so important."

As a solution the brief recommended that for a specified period capitalization of undistributed income should be permitted at a flat rate. This would enable corporations and their shareholders to provide money for succession duties without avoiding taxation altogether.

Protests Burning Of War Buildings

REGINA, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Robert Woolf (CCF-Toronto) said yesterday in the legislature that farmers had "stood helplessly by" while buildings owned by the public were burned at a time when granaries were urgently needed and grain lay on the ground.

Mr. Woolf quoted a newspaper item that training airplanes were being burned at Calgary and a statement by J. B. Carswell, head of the War Assets Corporation, that whatever war materials had to be destroyed would be handled "intelligently."

Saskatchewan farmers had seen war buildings burned although they had wished to purchase the timber in them.

Mr. Woolf said he mentioned the matter in the legislature to draw attention to the need of disposing of materials the people of Canada sought "in an intelligent and economical manner."

Police Probing Fire at Coast

VANCOUVER, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Vancouver city police said last night their investigations into a mysterious fire in the auditorium of the Sir Alexander Mackenzie school Monday night would be continuing. The stage and curtains and sliding doors leading to the gymnasium were burned. Police found stuff from a gymnasium wrestling mat had been pulled out and apparently used to start the blaze. They said the auditorium was entered by smashing glass in the door and releasing the fire catch.

Officers Cite Growing Power Of RCAF Bombers Overseas

OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—(CP)—The growing might and precision of the Canadian bombing group overseas were described here yesterday by Air Marshal L. S. Broadner, RCAF overseas chief, and Air Vice-Marshal C. M. (Black Mike) McEwen, overseas bomber chief, who arrived here yesterday for conferences.

Marshal Broadner outlined a recent visit to the Indian-Burmese theatre and told of an all-Canadian air transport set-up just starting operations and "ready to support the ground forces so victoriously fighting the battle of Burma."

Marshal McEwen said in the last 10 months RCAF men have picked up 2,249 awards and 318 mentions in dispatches. The group had become a round-the-clock organization now that it was operating in daytime and its precision efficiency permitted smaller forces of heavy bombers "to devastate the enemy's war potential" on a scale never before attained.

"RISKS" TRIFLING

"The precision of our bombing has reached such a pitch that the risks involved in the employment of heavy bombers on targets out a few hundred yards from our own troops, could be accepted as trifling compared with the terrifying effectiveness of this new army support weapon, and the call was made to lay bomb carpets on enemy armor and troop concentrations in the areas co-ordinated with advances by Allied ground forces," he said.

"This employment of large numbers of heavy bombers for close support work is new in the annals of warfare and the success achieved has undoubtedly saved the lives of many of our ground forces at the cost of few casualties."

Toronto's Mayor Starts Something With Snow Claim

OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—(CP)—When Mayor Robert Saunders told city council that in removing Toronto's 67-inch snowfall from city streets this winter, the city "removed more snow than any other city in the country," he started something.

Ottawa's mayor, Stanley Lewis, invited Mayor Saunders to send a delegation to the national capital "for a lesson on the proper method of removing snow." Ottawa had handled its 74½-inch fall this winter "as a crop."

Montreal snow removal officials pointed out that Toronto's 67 inches is "considerably" below the 85½ inches Montreal considers average at this time of year.

Claims Rights Are Violated By CCF Govt.

REGINA, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Opposition leader W. J. Patterson said in the Saskatchewan legislature yesterday that the provincial CCF government had interfered with the rights of the people, and had placed his statements in the mouth of the King's representative, Chief Justice W. M. Martin, who read the throne speech at the opening of the 1945 session last week.

He moved an amendment to the motion for an address in reply to the Throne Speech. The amendment asked the legislature to express regret that the government "have adopted policies, both legislative and administrative, which have centralized power, authority and control in the government and restricted the democratic rights of local self-government and individual opportunity."

STARTED YEARS AGO

Mr. Patterson said the Throne Speech said that a policy of free text books for elementary schools was being initiated when in fact a free text book policy had been initiated years ago.

"The government put in the mouth of the King's representative a statement only partly true," said Mr. Patterson.

"It is outrageous that the King's representative in Saskatchewan should have statements placed in his mouth that are not in accordance with the facts. It is most improper."

"This is part of the program to eliminate the representative of the King in this province altogether. Already his office (that of the lieutenant-governor) has been closed in this parliament building and his official residence has been taken away."

"The government sought to centralize power in its own hands and was determined to 'plunge ahead' into experiments with little concern as to the wishes of the people concerned. Increased power was being assumed at the expense of local governments, and people were beginning to realize that planned economy in operation meant dictation by the government."

STAND INVESTIGATION

The purchase of the Dominion Electric Light and Power Company by the government "would stand investigation," said Mr. Patterson. This company had interests in British Columbia, Manitoba and Alberta as well as Saskatchewan and evidently there was not sufficient scope in Saskatchewan for Resources Minister J. L. Phelps who had announced the purchase.

The government by the purchase had assumed responsibility for from $2,500,000 to $3,000,000. If this money had been spent in extension of Saskatchewan Power Commission services perhaps 10,000 farm homes would receive power services.

The CCF government had failed to place the civil service on a non-political basis as it had said it would.

Says Troops Short Of Reinforcements

OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Sgt. Rene Labrosse, a long service overseas veteran back in Canada on 30-days leave after fighting with an anti-tank regiment during the Caen break-through, said on his arrival here Thursday: "We lacked reinforcements all the way through until Falaise and the battle of the Leopold canal."

The Evening Citizen said yesterday in a newspaper story that Sgt. Labrosse has been "on the carpet" for his public criticism of the reinforcement situation.

The story added: "No official statement has been issued in reference to the probe into the young Ottawa NCO's statements and it has not been indicated whether or not he may face possible disciplinary action."

Discrimination Against Forces In Vote Claimed

WITH THE CANADIAN CORPS ON THE ADRIATIC, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Mon. Maj. Edgar J. Bailey of Winnipeg, The Loyal Edmonton Regiment padre and CCF candidate in Ligar in the next Dominion election, has cabled to CCF authorities that it is his conviction the government intends to discriminate against active service candidates in the election.

Protesting that two requests for posting to M.D. 10 (Winnipeg) where he might be in a position to make his campaign had been refused, Maj. Bailey has cabled M. J. Caldwell, national CCF leader, through Stanley Knowles, CCF member of parliament for Winnipeg North Centre.

MUST AWAIT WRIT

Twice since it was announced that an election would be called, he said he had applied for permission to return to Canada to conduct his campaign. Both times, he said, he was told no such authority was forthcoming until the election writ was issued.

Maj. Bailey claimed this placed soldier candidates now overseas under a seven-week handicap—the figure arrived at by allowing two or three weeks for authority to come through and four to five weeks for the trip to Manitoba.

Maj. Bailey said replies to the previous requests required six and eight days respectively to come from London.

He said he feared he might reach his constituency only in the last week of the campaign and this was not sufficient time.

The only other candidate in this theatre so far is Maj. David Fulton of Kamloops, B.C., who accepted the Progressive Conservative nomination for that riding last November.

A large group of servicemen, taking advantage of arrangements for their participation in political activities, are expected to be among candidates in the forthcoming federal election.

These arrangements were embodied in an order-in-council passed last May which provided the conditions under which members of the army, navy and air force may be granted leave for campaigning and attending to parliamentary duties if elected.

DEFINITION GIVEN

A candidate for purposes of the order is defined as a person who is declared by himself or by others to be a candidate at a Dominion or provincial election or who is officially nominated.

The declaration must be in writing and before leave is granted it must be published in the Canada Gazette and in a daily newspaper published or circulating in the district in which the person is a candidate.

After this, subject to the "exigencies of the service," the candidate may be granted leave for a period not longer than from the issue of the election writ to two days after the election.

N.S. Coal Miners Vote For Strike

GLACE BAY, N.S., Feb. 21.—(CP)—Miners of District 28 of the United Mine Workers of America yesterday voted strongly in favor of going on strike April 1 to enforce wage demands rejected by the National War Labor Board. With all returns in except those from Minto, N.B., which will not be available until later today, the miners voted 5,838 in favor of the strike and 1,843 against. District President Freeman Jenkins said late last night that union officers had no comment to make. The vote, he said, spoke for itself.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

WHILE the acknowledgement that "competitive games form an integral part of the National Fitness program" is a step in the right direction—it even seems to be a retreat from earlier theories—there isn't any likelihood of a terrific rush to hail yesterday's pronouncement by Major Eisenhardt, as a possible panacea for all sport problems in Canada.

And most sports organizations quite properly will feel they have within their own ranks men who are capable of speaking for their particular branch of sport.

For example Frank Sargent, C.I.A. president, whose years of experience should fit him to act on its behalf, doubtless would be the choice as spokesman for hockey, rather than some individual whose knowledge of the game and its difficulties (local, provincial and Dominion-wide) is limited to a mere cursory scanning of a few letters. And the same applies equally to other branches of sport.

It doesn't seem logical either that National Fitness officials would be willing merely to "serve as the mouthpiece of sport to the government." And Major Eisenhardt cannot expect to receive a carte blanche to act for various organizations throughout Canada, without laying a few of his own cards on the table.

Naturally sports authorities here and elsewhere will be willing to assist in any proposal which would be of general benefit, but they'll want to know most of the whys and wherefores in advance. In the

National Physical Fitness Branch Would Serve as Link With Government

Asks Co-Operation Sports Organizations

NPF Head Outlines New Plans

OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—(CP)—The national physical fitness branch of the federal health department will in future serve as a link between Canadian sports organizations and the government, Maj. Ian Eisenhardt, director of physical fitness, said Tuesday in an interview.

"We will serve as the mouthpiece of sports to the government," said Maj. Eisenhardt. "We are asking sports organizations to outline how they can help in our physical fitness program and how we can help them expand their organizations."

Previously, sports organizations had no direct link with the government, but with competitive games forming an integral part of the physical fitness program it was felt that such a link should be established.

Major Eisenhardt said he wished to invite all Canadian sports organizations to write him within the next few weeks and suggest how the government could help further their respective sports and get more people interested in them.

He asked that the letters be addressed to:

Maj. Ian Eisenhardt, National Director of Physical Fitness, Room 421, Daily Building, Ottawa.

He said he planned to take the letters with him to a meeting of the National Physical Fitness Council at Victoria, April 5 to 9, where they would be placed before the representatives from the nine provinces.

The council undoubtedly would draw up resolutions based on the suggestions in the letters and would call on the government to act at least on some of the proposals.

Maj. Eisenhardt said some sports organizations had already written him and most of them felt that more publicity and more pictures in the newspapers would stimulate interest. Few asked for financial assistance.

He hoped to see the day when all sports in Canada were as well organized as hockey. The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association had done splendid work in organizing hockey across Canada. There were thousands of hockey teams in the Dominion and the words "hockey" and "Canada" were synonymous in the outside world.

One aim would be to get more people interested in lacrosse, soccer, football, skiing, skating, snowshoeing, figure skating, tennis, baseball and other competitive games.

Britain, soccer attracted between 50,000 and 75,000 spectators a game and this was due to the fact that almost everyone in Britain played soccer at one time or another.

The department planned to draw up record books on all Canadian sporting events. The books would contain Dominion, provincial, college and school records and would give Canadian sports organizations something to shoot at when holding meets.

Most Canadian record books now were outdated. Track and field records had not been brought up to date since 1929. The department would attempt to keep the records up to date and in time it was hoped a physical fitness representative would be able to attend main sports events in the country to supervise the keeping of records.

COAST OFFICIALS NOT SOLD ON IDEA

VANCOUVER, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Most sports officials interviewed here said Tuesday night that they do not want any government interference with their organizations.

Doug Grimston of New Westminster, B.C., president of the British Columbia branch of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said: "Hockey is the success it is simply because those at the head of it put organization and sacrifice beyond personal gain—if other sports did Berg's actual pin count was 604, his three games being 189, 223, 192. His handicap was 70 pins. Cyril Paton was the runner-up for singles yesterday with 672, made up of 192, 201, 179 for 571 actual pins. Paton made a handicap of 101.

WINNIPEG FAVORS CLOSER CO-OPERATION

WINNIPEG, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Officials of Winnipeg football and speedskating organizations favor a suggestion for closer co-operation.

Officials of hockey and other organizations here had no comment until they could make a study of the Eisenhardt suggestion.

A. U. Chipman, president of the Winnipeg Rugby Football Club, said the branch could help to bring various high school grid groups in Canada together with a view to staging a Canadian final. "Such a final would do much to make the fitness program a success," he said.

Percy Genser, president of the Manitoba Speed Skating Association, said that the branch could do much for Manitoba speed skating by providing financial aid and adequate facilities.

Jack McGill May Move Up to Bruins

BOSTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Frankie Mario, the Boston Bruins' second-line center, Tuesday was ordered to report to Canadian Army authorities for physical examination in Montreal Friday.

Prior to joining the Boston National Hockey League club, Mario served more than two years in the Canadian Army before receiving a medical discharge.

In the event that Mario is accepted for service the Bruins will replace him with Jack McGill, a discharge Canadian airman now playing in the Boston Olympics.

Fairbanks Cagers To Play Division At NWAC Tonight

Ladd Field's unbeaten Squadron "E" Invaders, boasting a string of 25 straight victories in league play-off and exhibition games, make their second appearance at Edmonton's NWAC drill hall tonight when they play the Alaskan Division Headquarters in another basketball game. The contest will start at 8 o'clock.

The Fairbanks, Alaska club met the Headquarters cagers here Feb. 15 and defeated the locals 49-37. Since then the far north boys, coached by Lt. George Regitko, former Edmonton Air Base sports officer, have travelled to Winnipeg and Calgary. They trounced an all-star club 66-33 at Winnipeg and then won 44-31 from the Calgary Yanks.

The Division hoopers are in better condition than they were for the first meeting of the two clubs, and are hoping to halt the powerful invaders. Manuel Dorsky, captain of the locals was suffering from a leg injury during the last contest, but is said to be in top condition for tonight's clash.

Besides Dorsky, a dependable guard, the Division club will have Bob Wens, Rex Williams, Willis Farnham and Joe Gustella on the starting lineup. Coach of the Headquarters team is Capt. Gerard Bulger. Starting lineup of the visitors will likely be Wayne Warner, John Kellor and Manuel Hancher, forwards and Bob Lewis and John D'Aurto, guards. Hancher and Lewis are former US college stand-outs and supply most of the scoring punch.

The Ladd Field cagers are expected to return to their home base on Thursday, but they will be back here for the big service tournament on March 14, 15 and 16.

Canadians (2) Beaten 8-4

Jack Meldrum Scores Four As EAC Juveniles Cop Opener

Edmonton Athletic Club took a game lead in the best of three final series for the City Juvenile Hockey League championship Tuesday night when they whipped the Canadians' Highland squad 8-4 in a fast fixture at the Arena. Second game is likely to be played Thursday at 119 Street rink.

Jack Meldrum, EAC centre ice flash, skated through for a total of four counters to pace the team which finished behind the Highland squad in the league race. Meldrum subverted the Canadian (2) defence on several occasions on lone rushes, but only netted twice while going in alone. He was assisted by Clem Kerr and John Klymak on his other two counters.

Elwood Shell, Harry Jeske, Norm Grant and Clem Kerr tallied the other four EAC goals while Jack Sugden and Roy Merkel led the Canadians' attack. Sugden fired two goals, while Merkel had two assists. D. Taylor and M. Lupul netted the other markers for the locals.

Shell started the scoring at 5:52 of the first period when he drove home a pass from Gordon Grierson, and about 10 minutes later Meldrum converted a relay from Kerr to make it 2-0 for the winners. Sugden caught the upper corner of goalie Stevenson's cage just before the period ended, however, to cut the margin to one.

Jeske and Meldrum made it 4-1 for the Clubmen in the first half of the second session before M. Lupul banged in one for Canadians to cut the lead to 4-2.

EAC clinched the contest early in the last when Grant, Kerr and Meldrum scored in that order in the first 10 minutes to make it 7-2. Merkel passed to Taylor while the EAC's were short-handed, Kerr being in the box, and later set up a goal for Sugden to put the Canadians back in the running, but Meldrum slapped in Klymak's relay to boost the EAC lead again.

The team representing Edmonton will be a star club composed of US cagers. Johnny Galvin, Lowell Cornwell and John Panyini, of the Clippers, Manuel Dorsky and Rex Williams of Alaskan Division Headquarters and Bill Loy and Tex Winesler of Namas Air Base are seven already selected for the local club. Edmonton will probably enter the tourney as favorites.

Calder Defeats Highlands 2-1

Calder defeated Highlands 2-1 on the latter's home ice in Tuesday night's Canadian Athletic Club pee-wee hockey league game.

Pierce from Tymko and Brown from Pierce and Benwood were the goal-getters for the winning Calder sextet. Hyde scored for Highlands from a pass by Demchuk.

The league playoffs will commence next week.

Today's Sport Parade

By Jack Cuddy

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—(BUP)—It seems to us that the mid-night curfew on entertainment, which goes into effect nationally on Monday, will help boom sports generally.

However, the war-moment that makes necessary this request from mobilizer James F. Byrnes apparently spikes any lingering hopes that racing can be re-opened in the spring.

The only sports enterprises, now carrying on, that would seem to suffer from the curfew are bowling and billiard establishments. Under the new restrictions persons who normally "blow" a portion of their spending money in the late spots, like night clubs and saloons, should have more available now for sports; and persons who are denied late entertainment may turn to sports for diversion.

MONEY WAS IMPORTANT

ALTHOUGH there is little similarity between the curfew and prohibition, which was supposed to prevail in the United States from 1920 to 1933, it is recalled that the "golden decade" of sports came during that "dry" period. Speakeasies flourished during that decade; but nevertheless it was much more difficult for the ordinary fan to blow his dough in the "joints" than it has been since repeal. The plenteousness of money available for sports in those days was just as important in causing the "golden decade" as were the great performers who featured it—Jack Dempsey, Babe Ruth, Bobby Jones, Bill Tilden, Earl Sande, etc.

Before Monday's announcement of the curfew, hope had been increasing among racing men that the Christmas-eve ban might be lifted by spring, permitting the hooses to go to their golden gallop again. But the war situation necessitating the curfew seems to blast that hope entirely.

It is true that the curfew was requested primarily as a means of saving fuel, because of the coal shortage; but Byrnes said he believes it would also help conserve transportation and manpower. He said he was convinced that the public will gladly accept the curfew "in view of the fact that in the period just ahead of us, those in the armed services will be making greater sacrifices than ever."

HOPE FOR RACING DROPS

LAST week, after returning from the Crimea Conference, Byrnes said that more men will be in combat during March than ever before. These statements, combined with the drastic curfew measure, leave little hope of re-opening the tracks until the European war is ended, at least. Because, apparently, the momentum of war will be constantly stepped up until the goal is achieved.

Betting has increased tremendously during the past ten years, and particularly during the war. It seems certain that much money which ordinarily would be spent in the late spots, will be diverted now into betting channels, booming the bookie business throughout the country. Although the horse plants are closed, the public is wagering actively on other sports. Baseball will get a terrific betting play when the season opens.

We know of no reason why mid-night closing should curtail night baseball, boxing, etc. Rarely have regularly-scheduled night games lasted past midnight; and professional boxing shows never do.

Frick and Harridge Discuss Problems With J. F. Byrnes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Baseball's two-man diplomatic team, Ford Frick and Will Harridge, saw James F. Byrnes Tuesday and came out with big smiles. "As we remarked to Mr. Byrnes, any statement on our talk will have to come from him," Mr. Frick said.

Haegg, Lidman Headache For Athletic Union

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—(AP)—

Gunder Haegg and Haakon Lidman, Sweden's track stars, are at sea—and so is the American Athletic Union.

War-time secrecy swallowed the two athletes who left their homes Feb. 2 by air for London. They were visible to Londoners for five days until Feb. 7.

Dan Ferris, secretary of the AAU and manager of the United States indoor championships in Madison Square Garden Saturday night, has made tentative entries for each.

Haegg in the mile and three-mile events and Lidman in the hurdles.

The Swedish legation in London said yesterday that there was no reason for anxiety. The diplomats pointed out that they represented a neutral country and weren't provided with any specific information on Allied shipping.

The athletes at first were to come here by air but were unable to get priorities.

In New York, Swedish government officials and track followers think that both Haegg and Lidman made contact somewhere with the Gripsholm, exchange ship, which is due at Jersey City today.

Parents Amazed When "Children" Arrive in Britain

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Into a war-scarred London station Monday came a group of young men and women clad in comfortable Canadian clothes who stared around with the wide-eyed look of newly-arrived tourists.

A party of middle-aged people gathered at the barriers, stared too, and hesitated a moment. Then there was a wild rush of greeting as parents and children embraced and kissed in one of the war's strangest and most touching reunions.

Evaluated to Canada during Britain's dark days five years ago as small children, they returned healthy, confident citizens with well-developed ideas on most things. The parents were astonished.

Deaths Accidental

REGINA, Feb. 21.—(CP)—A coroners jury investigating the deaths of two Montreal youths found suffocation in a railway refrigerator car on Feb. 12 last night returned a verdict of accidental death. The youths were Marcel Daniels, 16, and Albert di Flore, 17, who were believed to be on their way to Vancouver for duty with the merchant marine.

Disguise Fails

WINNIPEG, Feb. 21.—(CP)—The art of disguise didn't work for an army deserter here who when captured had pencilled eyelashes, eye-brows and mustache, and had bleached his hair. Cpl. Arthur Margill of the Army Provost Corps, Military District 10, penetrated the disguise Monday and returned the man to Fort Osborne barracks.

Two In Eights Grand Challenge Red Deer 'Spiel

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
RED DEER, Feb. 21.—The Red Deer curling club's 33rd annual bonspiel got away to a flying start on Tuesday morning, opening of four days of curling for the 42 rinks entered. Twenty-five of them are from outside points and they have been competition from the 17 entries from the Red Deer club.

In spite of warmer weather the ice held up remarkably well. The seven sheets at the curling rink were in top shape and they got in a lot of curling on the five at the hockey arena although some of these sheets were lost for use in the warmest part of the day. Norman MacDonald, the ice-maker at the curling rink and his assistant, David Morrison, had the sheets ready every time and the arena, Murray Palmer, in charge there, also did a good job.

With everything moving smoothly and bonspiel secretary Jack Taylor getting real co-operation from the curlers splendid headway was made on Tuesday and 53 out of a possible 60 games were played. By the end of the day's play the sixteen of the grand challenge were filled with two rinks out in the eights. In the other primary competition, the hotelkeepers, they had all but one of the brackets filled in the sixteen. Bonspiel secretary Taylor expected to be able to start play in the two secondary, the Birks and the Eaton at noon on Wednesday. The fifth event, the Canadian Legion, is a new one this year, and is for rinks not reaching the eights in any other event.

There was a lot of good curling on Tuesday and some close finishes. One of the tightest games of the day was between W. Graham of the Innisfail club and Art Mundie of the hotelkeepers. They were all even, 10-10, coming home and it was necessary to measure the rocks to decide the winner. Mundie got it by about an eighth of an inch.

Old's Citizens May Have Road Opening West

OLDS: Residents of this district have long been interested in the opening up of the country west of here, generally regarded as a sportsman's paradise in addition to its natural beauty.

The hitch has always been the lack of an all weather road. This week Norman Cook, M.L.A., accompanied by Fred Peake and Morton Overgaard of Waterloo, Md., returned from a visit to Edmonton where they discussed the matter with provincial authorities.

All are hopeful that steps may be taken shortly to provide such a road, linking Sundre north with the Red Deer to Rocky Mountain House road.

Presbytery Raises Increased Amount

The Edmonton Presbytery of the United Church of Canada raised $2,000 more in 1944 for the Missionary and Maintenance Fund than it did in 1943. This is all the greater cause for rejoicing when it is seen along with the fact that every Presbytery in Canada has surpassed 1943 giving, said an official. The giving of the whole church in 1944 for this fund totalled $1,746,458. This was an increase of $155,597 over last year. The giving of the Church in Alberta were $75,407, an increase of $11,970 over last year.

The Rev. E. C. Turnbull is convener of the fund for the Alberta Conference, and the convener for the Edmonton Presbytery is the Rev. P. Murdoch MacKinnon.

"Little Tobruk" Dike Strongpoint Captured By Canadian Scottish Unit

BY DOUGLAS AMARON
WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY IN GERMANY,
Feb. 21.—(CP)—The German village of Niel, a dike strongpoint known to the troops as "Little Tobruk", was captured early in the 1st Canadian Army offensive by men of the Canadian Scottish Regiment of Victoria, it was disclosed yesterday.

The British Columbia Battalion, which came to the continent on D-Day (with the 3rd Division) entered the present battle the night of Feb. 8, a few hours after the offensive was opened, and took part in the amphibious advance across the flooded fields east of Nijmegen. It was the Ninth Canadian Infantry Regiment disclosed to have taken part in the early stages of the attack.

The Scots' stiffest fight was for a heavily-defended group of houses, dugouts and pillboxes at an intersection of two dikes on the German-Netherlands border. There had been so many patrol clashes around the position during the winter lull on the 1st Canadian Army front that the Canadians had renamed the position after the famed desert fortress where British 8th Army troops held out for seven months in 1941.

DIFFICULT TIME
The first troops assaulting "Little Tobruk" had a difficult time and a platoon under Sgt. Lloyd Cummings of Trail, B.C., moved up from the reserve. Sgt. Cummings' men attacked by buffalo, an amphibious vehicle, which was hit, causing casualties, but after two reverses the Canadians swept ashore, driving down the dike 85 Germans who later were captured.

In the fighting among the pillboxes 12 Germans were killed and wounded during the fighting for Niel which fell Feb. 9.

Identity of the Scottish among troops in action came nearly a week after these eight infantry regiments had been disclosed as having taken part in the early stages of the offensive.

The Calgary Highlanders; Le Regiment de Maisonneuve, Montreal; The Regina Rifles Regiment; The North Shore (New Brunswick) Regiment, Newcastle, N.B.; Le Regiment de la Chaudiere, Lake Megantic, Que.; The Queen's Own Rifles of Canada, Toronto; The Highland Light Infantry of Canada, Galt, Ont.; The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders, Cornwall, Ont.

Special Program

Rotary Club to Celebrate Dual Anniversary Thursday

On Feb. 23, 1905, a young Chicago lawyer named Paul Harris gathered a group of business-men around a table and had lunch. That meeting was the nucleus of the Rotary movement that spread rapidly, and became international when a Winnipeg Rotary Club was established in 1910. At the present time 235,550 members in 5,283 clubs form an international force for goodwill and understanding.

To mark the 40th anniversary of the founding of the Rotary movement, and the 29th anniversary of the Rotary Club in Edmonton, members will stage a dinner meeting at the Macdonald hotel at 7 p.m. Thursday, under the chairmanship of Past President Reg. T. Rose.

A commemorative address will be given by Dr. C. Albert Oulton, and other items on the program include club singing led by Fred Wells; songs by Shirley Neher; a fashion parade directed by Harry Johnson; music by Rod Cook's band, and other entertainment.

CLUB FORMED

The Edmonton Rotary Club was organized in March, 1916, with a charter membership of 23. Two of the "old originals" remain. Founder S. H. Dickson and Warren W. Prevey. History of the club shows an active part in developing community gardens, children's welfare with emphasis on boys' work, support of the Beulah home for wayward women and girls, a boys' camp, Christmas cheer and other forms of community welfare. The present membership is 164.

Medical Group Making Survey West Canada

The National Research Council has authorized the creation of a western regional group of the associate committee for medical research. The function of this group is to survey the research facilities in medical centres of Western Canada, in the expectation that there would be increased medical research in the post-war period. This group is now visiting Edmonton.

The group consists of Dr. P. H. T. Thorakson, assistant professor of surgery, University of Manitoba, chairman; Dr. W. S. Lindsay, dean of medical sciences, University of Saskatchewan; Dr. J. W. Scott, professor of medicine, University of Alberta; and Dr. C. R. Dolman, professor of bacteriology and preventive medicine, University of British Columbia.

ALSO HERE

The group is accompanied by Dr. J. B. Collip of McGill University, chairman of the associate committee on medical research, and Dr. G. H. Eitinger, professor of physiology, Queen's University, honorary secretary of the committee.

Dr. Collip came to the University of Alberta in 1915 as a lecturer in physiology and biochemistry. After a period of six years devoted to teaching and research, latterly as an associate professor, he received a Rockefeller Fellowship and returned to the University of Toronto to leave to work in research with Dr. J. J. R. MacLeod in the department of physiology of that university during the time covered by the award.

It was here that he also became associated with Doctors Banting and Best in the purification and introduction of insulin to the profession, an accomplishment which brought fame to the participants.

Dr. Collip returned to the University of Alberta as professor of biochemistry in 1922 and remained as head of that department for a period of six years, during which important contributions to research in his own field were accomplished. In 1928 he was offered and accepted the chair of biochemistry at McGill University. In the year 1942, Dr. Collip was appointed head of the new Research Institute of Endocrinology, McGill University, and gave up his teaching position to devote himself to research.

TWO DAYS HERE

The group has visited the University of Manitoba, University of Saskatchewan, is spending two days with the members of the medical faculty, University of Alberta, and then proceeding to Vancouver for the first annual meeting. The principal medical research activity of the National Research Council of the last five years has dealt with the solution of problems concerning the comfort and safety and the successful medical and surgical treatment of the members of the armed forces.

Trams Are Delayed During Rush Hours

Breaking of overhead wires on the street railway system on Whyte avenue and 118 avenue caused delays during the rush hours Wednesday morning.

The White avenue break occurred at 8 a.m. at 106 street and tied up street car traffic for 25 minutes. Trolley buses, usually operated to 104 street and Whyte avenue were turned at 99 street.

The break on 119 avenue occurred at 78 street at 7:45 a.m. and interrupted traffic east of 78 street for about 20 minutes. Blue line street cars were turned at 82 street to maintain full service through to the downtown section of the city.

Attack by Nazi Junkers Plane Didn't Affect Edmonton Airman

An attack by a Nazi Junkers 88 fighter aircraft on his first operational trip, apparently didn't phase Flt.-Lt. Fred Winn, DFC, RCAF veteran who arrived home on leave this week.

At any rate, he went back for more, and eventually completed 39 sorties over enemy territory, trips that involved raids on such targets as Bottrop, Brunswick, Kiel and the Ruhr in Germany, Nazi targets in Norway, and Southern France.

Commenting on his first trip, Flt. Lt. Winn, who prior to enlisting was a constable in the city police force for about four years, laughed it off by remarking that the Junkers pounded their aircraft so they pounded the Junkers—it ended up as a draw with nobody hurt, and no extensive damage done.

BASED IN ENGLAND

The officer flew with the 18th RCAF squadron based in England. Among his activities as Halifax bomber pilot, he counts mine-laying operations in the Kattegat, north of Heligoland, to hamper German shipping off the Norwegian coast.

Born in Winnipeg and educated in Edmonton, the officer is spending leave with his wife at 11419 95 street. He expects to leave the service shortly and is hoping to return to a different kind of uniform than the ribbon-marked job he wears at present.

This time it will be a dark blue number with a red stripe down the leg and the insignia on the hat pointing to city police.

FLT.-LT. FRED WINN, DFC

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

Would you favor a return after the war to the previous taxation system, where both provincial and Dominion governments levied income taxes against the individual?

THE ANSWERS

DONALD JACKSON, trucker: "I don't see why the present system can't be continued, and the one government collect all the tax and pay the other its share. It was a headache making out two separate tax returns and both of them didn't cost any less than one does at the present time, in time spent doing the job."

HAROLD MUNSON, salesman: "I think the present system is far better than the old dual collection plan. It's easier on the taxpayer, and on top of that, it should be cheaper, because there are not two parallel bodies doing the same job in the country. As long as the Ottawa government pays the province its share of the tax, I would think the province would be glad to be relieved of the collection."

JAMES STIMSON, student: Having changed from one plan to the other, it would appear a waste of time and money to change back again, provided the present plan is working in a satisfactory manner. The idea that would win most approval all across the country would be abolition of the income tax."

150 Attending Special Course

Approximately 150 persons were in attendance at the opening session of the agricultural short course which is being held here Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, under the auspices of the provincial department of agriculture, and the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.

Reg. T. Rose, secretary of the chamber said there seems to be a good deal of interest in the course this year and reported that an unusually large number of women are attending.

Wednesday's lectures are being held in the Memorial Hall and on Thursday and Friday will be held in the Masonic Temple.

It was reported farmers attending the course had come from points within approximately 100-mile radius and it is expected the number of district men coming in to the city each day will greatly expand the attendance.

Coal Commission

The royal commission investigating the coal industry throughout Canada will sit here April 16 and 17, according to information made available on Wednesday. Some of its other Western Canada sittings are: Vancouver, March 28-29; Calgary, April 3-7; Regina, April 19; Winnipeg, April 24.

Mayor Andrew Davidson, MLA, Calgary, arrived here Wednesday to attend the sittings of the legislature. He is accompanied by Mrs. Davidson and is registered at the Macdonald hotel.

H. B. MacDonald, also independent member of the legislature for Calgary, arrived in the city Wednesday morning. He is also a guest at the Macdonald hotel.

Appraisers Draft Meeting Program

The eighth annual meeting of the Appraisal Institute of Canada will be held at the Macdonald hotel Feb. 26 to 28, inclusive, with A. W. Mahaffy, Winnipeg, president, in the chair.

Dr. F. A. Wyatt, University of Alberta, will speak on "The Place of Wooded Soils in Future Agriculture," and Prof. H. Van Vliet, University of Saskatchewan, will speak on post-war markets and prices. On the second day of the convention Prof. Andrew Stewart, University of Alberta, will speak on "yield variations as a risk factor," and J. A. Macdonald, Calgary, will deal with the "re-establishment of returned veterans."

At the afternoon session, F. W. Nicholls, Ottawa, Dominion director of housing, will deal with the National Housing Act, and appraisals, and W. J. Smith, National Trust Co., will speak on facts supporting farm appraisals.

The sessions will conclude with the annual dinner at which the guest speaker will be Hon. D. B. MacMillan, minister of agriculture, province of Alberta.

Caucus Discusses New Legislation

Amendments to health and agriculture legislation were discussed at Wednesday morning sitting of the Social Credit caucus, it was learned.

Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health, led a discussion on amendments to health legislation, some of which are designed to improve municipal hospitals administration.

The caucus also discussed legislative rules with respect to procedure. Debate centered around modernization of the rules, but nothing definite was decided and further discussions will be held.

It was announced caucus sessions would be held Wednesday and Friday mornings and Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings while the legislature is sitting.

Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce and member for the constituency, will be a candidate for the nomination and there is little doubt in Liberal quarters that he will be selected as the standard bearer. Mr. MacKinnon will be the principal speaker at the convention.

Death was said by Dr. F. A. Keillor, assistant coroner, to have resulted from a heart attack. Mr. McKay resided with his son, Art McKay, at the above address.

Doctor Shortage Remains Acute

The shortage of doctors in Alberta remains acute, but efforts are being made to recruit medical men for service in Alberta. Dr. G. J. Johnson, Calgary, registrar of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Alberta, stated Wednesday.

He said there were now practicing in the province 461 medical doctors, compared with 370 in the pre-war period, and that 100 members of the profession, including recently graduated students, were serving in the armed forces.

The district advisory committee of the Canadian Medical Association was endeavoring to obtain doctors for the province as part of its rehabilitation program.

Doctor Shortage Remains Acute

The shortage of doctors in Alberta remains acute, but efforts are being made to recruit medical men for service in Alberta. Dr. G. J. Johnson, Calgary, registrar of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Alberta, stated Wednesday.

He said there were now practicing in the province 461 medical doctors, compared with 370 in the pre-war period, and that 100 members of the profession, including recently graduated students, were serving in the armed forces.

The district advisory committee of the Canadian Medical Association was endeavoring to obtain doctors for the province as part of its rehabilitation program.

PERFECT DICE HAVE NEVER BEEN MADE

Dice that are perfectly balanced have never been made, scientists tell us. The difference in the number of spots on the various sides of the dice upsets the balance of the dice in such a way that nobody is believed to have ever completely counteracted it.

Joker Happy!

PITTSBURGH, Calif. Feb. 21.—(AP)—Joker, a black cocker spaniel, was a desolate little dog when his master, Capt. Stanley C. Nave, went off to war.

For 13 days he wandered restlessly around home, then disappeared.

Mrs. Nave this week received a letter from her husband—4,600 miles away on a South Pacific island.

Joker is with him. An army officer who found him in an army camp brought him to the Pacific.

THESE WOMEN—"Don't be bitter about getting home, dear. After all, I gave you your old job back, didn't I?"

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Amendments of the New York State sanitary code became effective Jan. 1, '45, making the "quarantine" or isolation restrictions in scarlet fever the same as in septic sore throat, as it has been recognized for the past 50 years that scarlet fever and septic sore throat are caused by the same germ or by strains of the Streptococcus hemolyticus—(hemolysis or hemolytic means dissolving or breaking up or destroying red blood corpuscles).

This Streptococcus hemolyticus is a wicked, versatile germ, groups or strains of which may cause septic sore throat or scarlet fever, other groups may cause erysipelas, and complications such as acute inflammation or abscess in the middle ear, acute mastoiditis, endocarditis (inflammation of heart lining), arthritis, peritonitis, pneumonia.

The new New York sanitary regulation stipulates that streptococcal sore throats are to be isolated "until the mucous membranes of nose and throat appear normal and all abnormal discharges from nose, throat, ears or suppurating glands (lymph nodes) have ceased" and isolation in any case shall be for not less than seven days and not more than ninety days. Release from isolation depends on a negative throat culture and clinical recovery.

Notice that nothing is said about the rash. Too much attention has been given the rash of scarlet fever heretofore—that is, it is of little significance whether there is a rash or whether it lasts more than a day or two or whether peeling of skin follows or persists—there is little if any evidence that scarlet fever or for that matter measles is or can be spread through mere contact with the rash or the skin desquamation that usually follows such rashes. Both scarlet fever and measles are spread through the discharges or secretions from nose and throat or from suppurating lymph nodes or middle ear or other sequel or complication of the acute illness.

Either scarlet fever or septic sore throat may be spread through milk contaminated by a person who has the disease or is coming down with it or has not yet made a complete recovery from the disease or from the sequel or complication.

Scarlet fever or septic sore throat may be spread from person to person via the invisibly tiny droplets of spray emitted from nose and mouth when a person coughs, sneezes or talks—in quiet conversation.

Minute Make-Ups

If your ankles are too heavy, exercise them. If you are too stout all over you will need to supplement the exercises with reasonable regulation of diet. There is no sense in taking exercises to reduce one part of the body if you continue to eat all sorts of fattening foods. Here is an exercise for reducing the ankles. It is rather difficult to do at first but persistent repetition will make it easy. Stand with legs crossed and toes pointing in opposite directions. Slide one foot out to the side, toe well pointed. Bring it back to the starting position. Repeat ten times with each foot.

Expect Conference

FREDERICTON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—The New Brunswick government anticipates a Dominion-provincial conference will be held this year and is ready to take part in such a conference, said the Speech from the Throne read by Lieutenant-Governor W. G. Clark yesterday afternoon in opening the first session of New Brunswick's 40th legislature.

Thousand "Headaches" Engineers Share Canucks' Battle Triumphs, Perils

By DOUGLAS AMARON

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY IN GERMANY, Feb. 21.—(CP)—The engineers are sharing the 1st Canadian Army offensive's triumphs and perils with the other Canadian soldiers these days, but it will be a long time before they forget the troubles that befell them in the days and weeks before the offensive began.

The first thaw of the winter came along about that time and brought with it a thousand seep-er headaches.

"I think we must have just about every sapper in the corps at work on roads or bridges," an engineering officer at a Canadian Corps headquarters said one morning when the rain was falling its hardest. "They would probably have headquarters staff out there too, except that we make sure we're working hard when anyone starts looking for more men."

COUNTRY OF CANALS

Holland is a country of canals and bridges. The Germans destroyed the bridges so the engineers had to build new ones. Bailey bridges chiefly ranging from simple single spans to complex draw and pontoon structures that probably would amaze the British designer for whom the bridges are named.

They have had to maintain these bridges and in some instances build new ones.

The 8th Field Park Company maintains and establishes dumps of heavy engineering stores and includes electricians, mechanics, signallers, painters, carpenters and pioneers.

Commanded by Maj. A. Webster, New Westminster, B.C., this company has constructed and painted more than 50,000 signs of all shapes and sizes and for all purposes. Three hundred tons of equipment pass through the company each week.

N.B. to Provide Needs in Power, Improved Roads

FREDERICTON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—"Ample provision" for the electric power needs of New Brunswick residents and revival of a "good roads program" as soon as circumstances permit were promised in the speech from the throne read yesterday afternoon by Lieutenant-Governor W. G. Clark at the opening of the first session of New Brunswick's 40th legislature.

Reference to forthcoming legislation was made. Members of the 48-seat legislature, elected last August, were told that the Liberal government of Premier J. B. McNamee plans to introduce legislation amending the labor laws and abolishing the municipal road tax.

Sanders said he thought this was the luckiest hand he ever played.

He led the opening lead right around to his eight spot. Now he led the ten of diamonds. West refused to cover and he let it ride. When it held, Sanders played the queen of clubs but West would not cover that either so he again took the finesse.

Another club was played, hoping to drop the king, but West had four of them and East discarded a spade. Sanders now decided that as long as West held the king of clubs and the queen of diamonds, East ought to hold the queen of hearts and the king of spades, so he played a small heart from dummy and finessed the ten spot, which held. He then cashed his two good diamonds and the king and ace of hearts. He led the fourth heart, forcing East to win.

East has to lead a spade, which was won in dummy with the queen and then the jack of spades finessed, giving the declarer six odd.

How to Make a Splendid Cough Syrup at Home

A Big Saving, and It's So Easy! No Cooking!

Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of plain syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make in your own kitchen. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking! No trouble! (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16-ounce bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you 16 ounces of really splendid medicine for bad winter coughs. It doesn't please you in every way, but it makes a real saving for you, because it gives you four times as much cough syrup for your money. It lasts a long time, never spoils, and children love it. This is a very effective, dependable, quick-acting cough medicine for the whole family. Quickly, you feel its penetrating effect in the air passages. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes and makes breathing easy. You will be delighted with its quick effect in clearing up coughs. Pinex is a special compound of procaine, eucalypti, and menthol, in concentrated form, for winter coughs. Money refunded if medicine for bad winter coughs. It doesn't please you in every way.

Wants Union For Housewives

By ANNA STRINGER
LONDON, Feb. 21.—(BUP)—A World-Wide Housewives Union with representatives on future international conferences was proposed today by Miss Juanita Frances, chairman of Britain's Married Women's Association.

"The housewife should be given some recognition by the world for her work, just as a bricklayer or miner for carrying out her work is just as important," Miss Frances said.

Miss Frances has married but insists on using her maiden name.

Too many people think of a housewife's job as just a pleasant combination of love and sex," she said.

It's really not just that at all. Woman's work in the home is really apart from love and sex life and is most important for the well being of the race.

LARGE RESPONSIBILITY

There's a tremendous responsibility in being a wife and mother and there's a great deal of work involved. But woman never receives wages for her work and too often receives nothing at all but barest means of existence as "chattel."

The Married Women's Association also known as the Housewives' Union, was organized to obtain equal financial status for women particularly legal recognition of the wife as an equal financial partner with her husband.

How to Pack Overseas Parcels...

PACK IN CORRUGATED SHOCK-PROOF CONTAINERS

FILL ALL SPACES SO CONTENTS CANNOT SHAKE LOOSE

WRAP PARCEL IN SEVERAL LAYERS OF HEAVY PAPER WITH STRONG TWINE

PRINT ADDRESS IN BLOCK LETTERS, AND PUT SENDER'S NAME AND ADDRESS ON PARCEL

It is easy to pack a parcel so it will arrive safely overseas

Yet thousands of packages are ruined each month through poor packing... or delayed through incomplete addressing.

Remember first, that your parcel must stand up under the great weight of thousands of packages in the ship's hold, it must bear the shock of rough transport over shell-torn roads, and perhaps be unloaded in a hurry under enemy fire.

While your Post Office and the Canadian Postal Corps do everything in their power to assure prompt, safe delivery... much depends on HOW you pack and WHAT you pack

Print or Write Address Clearly—Make Sure It's Complete

To speed delivery Armed Forces mail is sorted into bags labelled with the name of the Overseas Unit. So make sure you put the name and number of the UNIT on all mail. Always remember to put the sender's name and address on the letter or parcel

Mail to wounded men in hospital Overseas should have the complete address, then ADD the words "IN HOSPITAL" in big letters on the envelope. This will ensure quicker delivery.

DO'S AND DON'TS

Pack parcels in corrugated cartons. Wrap in several layers of strong paper. Tie with heavy twine. Print address in block letters. Make sure address is COMPLETE. Affix completed customs Declaration.

Don't use thin boxes. They crush easily. Don't use flimsy, coloured wrapping paper. Don't send more than 500g of tobacco. Don't send more than 200g of liquor. Don't send more than 100g of perfume. Don't send more than 100g of soap. Don't send more than 100g of candy. Don't send more than 100g of fruit. Don't send more than 100g of vegetables. Don't send more than 100g of meat. Don't send more than 100g of fish. Don't send more than 100g of poultry. Don't send more than 100g of game. Don't send more than 100g of other foodstuffs.
